No, there is nothing else he needs to do. He is all set.

Just before we leave on our Christmas Break we will be sending out the Assignment Letters to all Winter students who will be moving in. This letter will tell him when and where to pick up his Residence Hall key. It will also inform him of what he can and cannot bring for his living arrangements. The letter will NOT give you his room assignment nor will it give you his roommate information. He will not learn that information until he comes to pick up his key (when he moves in).

Mark January 6, 2008, on your calendar. That is move in day. I do not have the time yet. He can have, if he wants, a microwave 600 watts (maximum 800 watts), refrigerator 5 cubic feet (basically waist high), twin extra-long sheets, a lap top or desk top computer (we have wireless Internet), and TV.

Just give you Christmas ideas, but this will all be in the Information Assignment Letter. But he does not have to get any of those things if he does not want to.

You can also look on line at www.oakland.edu/housing and get more information if you like.

We look forward to having Micah with us. I personally met with him and he is just a wonderful man.

Hope this helps,

Hello Roxanne,

This is Micah's dad. I know that you met with Micah and Kim (MORC) recently. I have been in touch with Bob Wiggins and recently spoke with Lionelle.

I just wanted to say hello and please let me know if there is anything else we need to do so Micah is available for January dormitory living.

thanks,
rich
